

Our grateful thanks to Longhursts for acting as Box Office and to the Bletchingley W.I. for organising the interval coffees.

We are always keen to welcome new members to B.A.D.s in various capacities. If you are interested in any aspect of drama, do contact our secretary, Kerry Marsden on Godstone (0883) 744247 for further information.

On Monday 17 September we are holding auditions for our Christmas pantomime, "Dick Whittington". Producer David Barker would be delighted to see any new faces (so, I rather suspect, would our regular audiences!). The Drama Club is next to the Youth Hut, above the tennis court in Grange Meadow. Just turn up from 7.30 p.m. or give David a ring on Godstone (0883) 743119 for more details.

Please note that gangways and exits are to be kept clear at all times.

All you need is love

BLETCHINGLEY Amateur Dramatic Society will bring Alan Ayckbourn's hilarious comedy "How

The Other Half Lives" to Bletchingley Village Hall on September 14 and 15.

The story revolves around three men who work for the same firm and one of the men is having an affair with one of the other's wives and in an attempt to cover up his escapades the guilty party uses one of the other couples as an excuse for being out until two in the morning.

The usual Ayckbourn humour is exaggerated by the fact that the play has two dinner parties on stage at the same time – with highly amusing results.

Who is going out with who and what happens at the end, can only be seen to be believed, but it should prove an excellent evening's entertainment for all comedy lovers.

The show, produced by Bob Gill, starts at 8 pm on both Friday and Saturday. Tickets at £3 each (£1.50 for OAPs) are available from Longhurst's shop in Bletchingley High Street or they can be ordered, for collection on the night from BADS Secretary on Godstone (0883) 623377 or can be bought on the evening at the door.
